

Shooters raise more than $11,000 for Compass Regional Hospice

October 18, 2017

Shooters (left to right) Wayne Smith, John Soos, Bob Brown, and John Nizer make up team "Sharon's Boys" who played in memory of Nizer's wife Sharon, who was a hospice patient.

Compass Regional Hospice hosted its first sporting clay tournament for 70 shooters on September 23 at Schrader's Outdoors in Henderson. The event raised more than $11,650 that will be invested in priorities that consider the current and future needs of the residents we serve in Queen Anne's, Kent and Caroline Counties.

The 70 shooters who participated in the Compass Regional Hospice sporting clay tournament moved through Schrader's world-class sporting clay course and participated in many activities, including shooting the five stand and long bird and wacky rabbit competitions. Raffle and door prizes were also awarded at the closing reception.

"As a non-profit organization Compass Regional Hospice relies on the financial support of the community to ensure that we are always here for children, teens and adults who need us when they have been diagnosed with a life-limiting illness or grieve the death of a loved one," says Executive Director Heather Guerieri. "We thank the shooters, sponsors and volunteers who supported us and Schrader's Outdoors for their expert management of the tournament."

Station sponsors for the Compass Regional Hospice Sporting Clay Tournament were David A. Bramble, Inc., P&M Hydraulics, and Rural Maryland Council. Range sponsors were Cohee Design Build, Inc., DMS

& Associates, Maryland Appliance Repair, LLC, Pixel Print & Post, J.C. Warner, Willow Construction and Precision Printing & Embroidery. The lunch and reception sponsor was Kent Island American Legion Post 278. Beverage sponsor was G&G Distributors. Prize and raffle sponsors were Chesapeake Outdoors and Stoeger Industries.

About the Compass Regional Hospice Capital Campaign

Compass Regional Hospice is the sole provider of hospice care and grief support for people of all ages in Queen Anne's, Kent and Caroline Counties. Much like a compass, the priorities of the Charting our Course Together capital campaign point the way towards the future of Compass Regional Hospice. The campaign is raising funds that will be invested in priorities that consider the current and future needs of the residents we serve. Every gift ensures that we continue to help your friends and neighbors find hope and healing as they chart their own course through illness and grief.
